FIFA is a video game franchise owned by Electronic Arts and developed by EA Canada. The series is known for its highly realistic football (soccer) gameplay and animation. A player controls a team by choosing tactics and formations to score goals, to gain possession, and to recover the ball after a teammate has lost it. Players can be substituted at any time. The goal, when achieved, will usually be a win for the team that scores. It was announced on May 2, 2014 that FIFA 14 would be the last entry in the series to feature PS3 and Xbox 360,[12] as the next installments would be exclusive to the PS4 and Xbox One.[3][4][5] The PC version was made available for digital download on July 22, 2014.[6] The game is also available on smartphones, allowing players to play against real opponents and record their plays, and is the most downloaded football simulation game in China.[7] Gameplay FIFA has been developed by EA Canada to be a fully 3D game, and as such it is the first video game with 3D animation. The game takes the player on a journey down the pitch as they fight against their opponents while scoring goals and winning the match. Different modes of gameplay can be selected and modified by the player. Over 3,000 new animations, combined with EA's breakthrough in-game physics technology, have made the player feel more realistic and in-control of the game. Both dribbling and passing have also been significantly improved. EA also used a deeper intelligence engine to build a new control scheme for football. As players run down the field, their bodies are modeled in more detail, and the player is more responsive than ever. The game also includes new gameplay features such as players doing both defensive and offensive tasks, making the game more dynamic and realistic than in the previous games. A player has the option to call up their teammate, retrieve the ball from behind the opponent's goal, receive the ball from a teammate, or use a free kick or corner kick.[8] One of the features of the game is the "Drive to Glory," where players can go for a controlled dribble and head the ball past a defender in order to score a goal. In addition, a player can win a penalty kick from a free-kick or a corner kick. A "Rush for Glory" occurs when players attempt to outwit their opponents and get the ball, and a "Wing It bc9d6d6daa

FIFA is Electronic Arts' flagship sports franchise that has sold over 100 million copies in all regions since its launch in September 1993. FIFA has brought the spirit of real-world football into the living room for over 20 years, providing players a true sense of motion, control and skill. FIFA is an authentic sports videogame which makes it the most exciting and most complete sports videogame in the world. FIFA is available on all formats: Xbox 360® video game and entertainment system from Microsoft, PlayStation® 3 (PS3®), PlayStation® 2 computer entertainment system (PS2™), Wii™, Wii U™ and PC. The FIFA franchise will be available in more than 100 markets in more than 50 languages by the end of 2013. What is a "Kick in the Goal Line"? In FIFA, coaches and captains regularly come up with tactics that they like to call a "Kick in the Goal Line". You can use this term to describe several different scenarios, when you are in a particular position on the pitch, you can take the ball in an angle, hit it into the goal on a long range shot, or deliver it into the far corner. Winning a World Cup and playing for a European champion club are the two main goals of any football player. But an Australian has pulled off the incredible feat of both in one season. Omar Khabib, the star of World Cup 2019, is a renowned footballer and one of the greatest players of the modern era. The 25-year-old has also won the A-League with Sydney FC this season. Khabib has achieved the utmost in football. After taking an insane number of shots in Manchester City's 2-0 win over Liverpool on Tuesday, Jadon Sancho, the rising star of the English game, described Khabib as the "greatest passer in the history of football". But while Sancho focused on football, Khabib's career has been more closely focused on reaching two seemingly impossible goals at once. Winning the World Cup Khabib's Turkish side, Besiktas, were defeated by Brazil in the final of the 2017 World Cup and it was clear from the moment Khabib was named in his country's starting line-up that he was the man to lead the 4-3-3-1 formation. Following defeats in the quarter-finals and
